Jake Rouse Joins Feed Energy as Account Manager

Des Moines, IA, November 15, 2011 – Feed Energy recently welcomed Jake Rouse as the newest Account Manager to Feed Energy's sales team.

Rouse previously worked for Elanco Animal Health as a Sales Representative where he managed an eleven-state territory.

Rouse graduated from Iowa State University with a B.S. in Animal Science. While in school, Rouse was a member of Iowa State University's Livestock Judging Team and Iowa State's Department of Animal Science Hiring Committee. Rouse was also a member of the Iowa State Alumni Association and the president of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity.

"We are pleased to have Jake on board," said Executive Director Mike Shindelar. "With Feed Energy's continuing growth, his expertise will be an asset in both product and market development areas."

As an Iowa native, Rouse was born in Curlew, IA and enjoys farming on the family farm, showing cattle and playing the guitar. Rouse currently resides in Indianola with his wife, Chelsea Rouse.

Feed Energy is an innovative agribusiness firm primarily engaged in further refining vegetable oil as a high-energy, liquid feed ingredient. The company produces and distributes scientifically balanced ingredients specific to their customers' needs throughout the Midwest. Feed Energy's headquarters and original production facility have been in Des Moines for 25 years, with additional Iowa production and distribution facilities in Sioux City and Pacific Junction.
